STEWARDSHIP THOUGHT

“The harvest is rich,” Jesus tells the seventy-two in today’s Gospel, “but the workers are few.” The situation is the same today. How can I help with God’s harvest? Am I called into the field? Am I one who could provide food or shelter or wages to those who toil in the fields of the Lord?

Catholic Action Principles

Start It Now

You don't have to wait for permission to do the right thing. Be decisive. Take the initiative. Get the facts. Do it now. If you don't have time to send a letter to a sick friend, send a card, a fax or an email. If you can't visit your mother, call her. If you see a gift that a friend would love, buy it for him or her. If you can't go to church for sixty minutes, go for forty minutes.

Avoid not doing things because you can't get them done exactly as you'd originally planned. Be bold and get in the habit of doing something. Walk down one block. Pay three bills. Spend fifteen minutes with your children's homework. Give five dollars to charity. Say grace before dinner. Small efforts done continually can yield significant, positive results. Do it now while it's on your mind. You don't have to be perfect to live the Catholic Action Principle™. Just be a person of action. You have more than good intentions to succeed. Be good by doing good. You must act. Get it done. Start it now.

St. Anne Community Cookbook

Please share your favorite recipes for our St. Anne Community Bilingual Cook Book that the choir is sponsoring. The Choir would like to offer the opportunity for all our parishioners to share recipes from their culture. It will be fun!!

Habitat is building in your community!

We have launched a new foreclosure rehab program in neighborhoods affected by the foreclosure crisis by purchasing and rehabilitating existing foreclosed houses. These homes will provide ownership housing opportunities for limited-income families. We plan to renovate eight homes in Bay Point over the next year as part of the federal Neighborhood Stabilization Program. We invite you to help rehab homes in your community! Visit our website, www.HabitatEB.org, for more information and to sign up to volunteer in your neighborhood! Contact us: Volunteer@HabitatEB.org or 510-251-6304 x375.

Nurses Notes

What is Asthma

Part 6 – Prevention

Working together, you and your doctor can design a step-by-step plan for living with your condition and preventing asthma attacks.

Develop a written asthma plan. With your doctor and health care team, write a detailed plan for taking maintenance medications and managing an acute attack. Then be sure to follow your plan. Asthma is an ongoing condition that needs regular monitoring and treatment. Taking control of your treatment can make you feel more in control of your life in general.

Identify and avoid asthma triggers. A number of outdoor allergens and irritants — ranging from pollen and mold to cold air and air pollution — can trigger asthma attacks. Find out what causes or worsens your asthma, and take steps to avoid those triggers.

Monitor your breathing. You may learn to recognize warning signs of an impending attack, such as slight coughing, wheezing or shortness of breath. But because your lung function may decrease before you notice any signs or symptoms, regularly measure your peak airflow with a home peak flow meter.

Identify and treat attacks early. If you act quickly, you're less likely to have a severe attack. You also won't need as much medication to control your symptoms. When your peak flow measurements decrease and alert you to an impending attack, take your medication as instructed and immediately stop any activity that may have triggered the attack. If your symptoms don't improve, get medical help as directed in your action plan.

Don't let up on your medication program. Just because your asthma seems to be improving, don't change anything without first talking to your doctor. It's a good idea to bring your medications with you to each doctor visit, so your doctor can double-check that you're using your medications correctly and taking the right dose.

NOTE: If you are having an Asthma attack and your medications are just not working for you please go to any emergency department or simply call 911 right away!!!

PLEASE- Remember to use the phone in the office or at the AV area in the hall and not a cell phone to call 911. Your cell phone will reach Sacramento CHP and precious time will be wasted.
